Small Group Questions

1. What can children “of God” learn from Joseph in handling unfair circumstances in their life - how does his faith influence his decisions and reactions to mistreatment?
2. How can you best relate to the story of Joseph? Sibling rivalry? Wondering what plan God has for your life? The test of forgiveness after a significant betrayal?
3. Joseph's expression to his brothers after their second return to Egypt was "what you intended for evil, God intended for good." Have you personally experienced this very thing in your faith journey over the years? Would you care to share this experience with the group?
4. What can parents learn from Jacob and how he makes decisions as he handles stress and raising children?
