

Small Group Questions

1. Pastor Joel began his message with this powerful statement: "You are only as strong as your foundation." Most likely we can all agree with this statement, but what can take you off of your foundation? What rocks your world?
2. What is our focus on as we contribute to our local church - our preferences or reaching more hearts for Christ?
3. Joel says that biblical foundations are more important than methodology. Methodology is not always driven by scriptural mandates. How do we as a church family determine our methodology?
4. Joel said in an earlier series that prayer and the Word are foundational for spiritual growth. How do we couple those foundational principles with the new changes Joel is suggesting with a 3rd service and Life Groups?
5. What does it mean to become all things to all people? What doesn't it mean?
6. How did the idea of three services strike you? Are you excited about the possibility of having a Wednesday evening service starting in September? Would you consider this as a viable option to Sunday morning worship?
7. How do we discern God's will in how best to plug in to continuing to grow spiritually and being salt and light to those around us in our church community and unbelievers in our community and sphere of influence?
